

Sinapse Print Simulators at IfraExpo, Amsterdam

September 15th, 2008 – Sinapse Print Simulators are showing a wide range of new simulator training possibilities on their stand number 8301 at IfraExpo, Amsterdam, October 27-30, 2008.

New features for Sinapse newspaper press simulators at IfraExpo include a high resolution image display – available now with Goss and other newspaper simulators from Sinapse.

Under the new company name Sinapse Print Simulators for the first time, the company is showing the following equipment and capabilities in Amsterdam:

- A press control console (Honeywell) connected to sheetfed, heatset and newspaper press simulators
- A demonstration Sinapse simulator console showing how all newspaper press configurations from 6x2 down to 2x1 format presses can benefit from press training activities
- A full programme of training capabilities, both for new press crews and existing teams that need new skills

Sinapse Print Simulators will also be seen on the Goss International and ABB exhibitor stands in Amsterdam.
